GRAND JURY WILL NOT DO ANYTHING

Speculation Today is That Nothing Will be Done in Rumored Ouster Proceedings.

AGAINST PROSECUTOR O'NEIL

Grand Jury Expected to Finish up Business Today—Case of Delinquent Dog Tax.

It was being predicted freely about town today that the grand jury would take no part in the ousting proceedings against Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil which have been rumored for several days. The grand jury planned to finish up its work this afternoon and adjourn for the court term. It was not certain, however, that the work of the grand jury would be completed today.

A part of the deliberations of the jury were conducted today by John C. Cheney of Shelbyville, deputy prosecutor of Shelby county who was appointed to that position by Dennis O'Neil. And again Wallace Morgan, who has been acting in O'Neil's place during this session of the grand jury was in charge a part of the time.

It was rumored in the court house today that the grand jury was investigating something which would create a mild sensation if any indictments were returned. It was said by some, however, that an indictment would not likely be returned in the case in question.

Another case has been cited to prove the inability, or possibly the undesirability, of Prosecutor O'Neil. The matter came to the attention of Sprawl Armstrong, assessor in Jersey City. It is said that Mr. Armstrong went to William Miller of Jersey City recently to collect his dog tax and was informed by Mr. Miller that the matter had been settled with the prosecutor. So far the three dollars delinquent tax has not been paid over to the trustee of Rushville township.

When the dog tax became delinquent the township trustee turned over the names of the delinquents to Prosecutor O'Neil for him to prosecute them according to law. There were twenty-seven in number. So far none of the delinquents have been prosecuted by Mr. O'Neil.

The name of William Miller was among the number. The prosecutor contended that the affidavits against the delinquents had to be signed by the township trustee and the township trustee says the law does not provide that. Finally to please the prosecutor some of the affidavits were signed by the trustee, that of Miller being among the number.

William Miller told the assessor that the prosecutor came to him and informed him that he had an affidavit against him (Miller) for delinquent dog tax and explained that he would have to pay all the costs in the case, which included a five dollar fee for the prosecutor, in addition to a fine. Dennis told the man delinquent in dog tax that if he would hand him a five dollar bill the case would be squared and the charge would never be brought against him. This is the story told the assessor when he attempted to collect Mr. Miller's dog tax. And the assessor says there are others who will tell the same story.

And the name of Dennis O'Neil was among the list of twenty-seven delinquents turned over to the prosecutor for prosecution. The prosecutor came to the township trustee with the story that he did not own the dog, but that it belonged to his step-son. A statement of the amount due was sent to his step-son who never paid and the delinquent tax is still charged up against the prosecutor. No attempt has been made to prosecute any of the delinquents although some interviews were given out at the time that prosecutions would follow failure to pay dog tax.

The township trustee went out and collected over a hundred dollars in delinquent dog tax and he feels that the prosecutor at least should collect or prosecute with the law behind him. He calls attention to the fact that dog tax is due Friday and that it is the only tax which is payable in cash when the assessor makes his usual visit.

The trustee complains that he has attempted to have one man prosecuted under the truancy law, but the prosecutor has failed to act. This man has a son who will not go to school and who is upheld by his father. The school teacher is blamed. The truancy officer, the trustee and the county superintendent have all investigated the case and found the charges against the teacher to be wholly without warrant.

GEORGE CAMP WON FROM BERT OSBORN

Winner of Tonight's Game Between Carter and Wolters Will Play Him For Championship.

100 TO 56, SCORE LAST NIGHT

George Camp defeated Bert Osborn last night in one of the deciding games of the pool tournament by a score of 100 to 56. Camp was an easy winner and played good pool. Osborn did not play his usual game and the balls rolled bad for him. Time and again he would make a ball only to be "sewed" on the next shot. Camp had remarkable control of the cue ball and his english worked fine. Camp was "dead" on long shots and by several of these gained an early lead. At one time Camp had counted thirty while Osborn had only one. Camp by his game last night looms up as a championship contender and his friends predict him an easy winner. He was credited with the high run of twelve balls.

Ed Carter and Policeman John Wolters play tonight. The winner of this contest will play Camp tomorrow night for the championship. One of the largest crowds since the start of the tournament was present last night.

HORSES SELL GOOD.

John E. Will H. and Frank E. Robbins sold all their horses at public auction in Greensburg yesterday. Among the most prominent were Todd Robbins, for $2,000 to Sheriff Patterson of Decatur county; Ben Liebes, to W. L. Wood of Liberty, for $410; I. B. Kitchin of Greensburg bought Maynard Leete for $450; Silverus for $400, and Sattone for $300. Other high priced ones were purchased by W. H. Silvers. The total amount of the sale was $10,000. Several Rushville horsemen attended.

Thomas Powers of Milroy was here today on business.

TWO MEN HELPED MARTIN ESCAPE

Two Barefoot Tracks Are Traced in Snow Over a Block From the Greenfield Jail

ENTERED THROUGH A WINDOW

Removed Lock in Door Leading to Jail Corridor Taking Keys to Open Cells.

It is known to a certainty that at least two men assisted Cordia Martin, the alleged bank robber, to escape from the jail in Greenfield early Sunday. The barefoot tracks of two men were traced in the snow over a block or more and with them the tracks of a man with shoes.

One of the parties entered the basement to the jail through a small window, removed a lock to the door leading to the stairway to the jail corridor and from there entered the dining room in the residence part of the jail. They took the keys from the place where they always hang, unlocked the cell door and replaced them, taking two revolvers which lay on a sideboard near the keys.

After being returned from the prison Martin was left in the Marion county jail for several months, fearing he might escape from the Greenfield jail, which, although it cost nearly $100,000 has not been proof against jail breakers.

Van Deery and Dan Williams, associates of Martin in burglaries, now serving sentences in the Indiana reformatory, were to have been taken to Greenfield yesterday to testify in Martin's trial, but Prosecutor Quigley telegraphed the warden not to come.

At the time of Martin's first arrest he was placed in the jail in Greenfield and he escaped by cutting his way through the stone floor. A few weeks later he was recognized by a woman in Decatur county, at whose home he asked for something to eat. Local officers were notified and Martin was returned to jail. He escaped punishment, however, and after the New Palestine bank was robbed he was arrested on the confession of his pal, VanDeery, also of Greenfield, and convicted of the crime in Marion county. He is thirty years old and unmarried.

HORSES CREATE PANIC

Team Pulling Heavy Wagon Narrowly Misses Vehicle.

A team of horses hitched to Weakley's bakery wagon caused a panic in Main street down town among drivers of vehicles and pedestrians about eleven-thirty o'clock today when it dashed down the street, threatening to run into buggies and automobiles in the street at any moment. A collision with several vehicles was narrowly averted when attempts were made to stop the frightened team. The horses were finally brought to a stop near the Davis Brothers barn. They were left standing in the street.

It was wrongfully stated yesterday that James Pea was sent up to the Indiana reformatory last year for robbery. The charge against him was assault and battery with intent to kill. The man sent to the reformatory for robbery was Arthur Becraft charged with the theft of furs.

A sawmill man manufactures excellent wood from saw dust and shavings. The material is compressed into molds by steel plungers.

ASSESSORS TO MEET FRIDAY

Will Get Supplies and Instructions Preparatory For Beginning of Usual Spring Assessment.

IS AN "OFF" YEAR FOR THEM

Will Not Have to Appraise Real Estate—Dog Tax Should be Paid In Cash.

The township assessors will meet with the county assessor, John F. Moses, in the court house Friday and receive their supplies preparatory to begin the usual spring assessment. At that time the assessors will agree on a uniform rate for assessing personal property in Rush county. Some of the assessors got their supplies while here last Saturday when they met with a member of the State board of tax commissioners.

It is likely that bank notes and other good securities will be assessed this year in Rush county. Some of the county assessors met by district early this year and agreed to assess securities at seventy-five per cent of their face value, but Rush county is not bound by this agreement. It is not thought enough revenue could be raised by reducing the appraised value of securities.

Some of the Rush county assessors are perplexed about instructions received from the State board of accounts relative to reports each assessor must make to that board. The statement says the township assessors must show in their reports the total amount of taxable property in the township, the number of polls, the amount paid in for dog tax, etc., and it winds up with the instruction that the assessors shall report the "total population of said township outside of incorporated towns and cities."

Some assessors have taken the view that it means they must take a census of their townships and they assert that they can not do that extra work in the allotted time. The assessors have until the fifteenth of May to complete their work. A few years ago the assessors' work did not begin until the first of April and the weather was much more agreeable for the work.

The county assessor has received the blanks from the State board of accounts in which they make such requests. The county assessor says these figures are asked by the board because it is attempting to ascertain the exact duties of each county official in order to determine if the work is distributed proportionately. Mr. Moses says it will not be necessary for the assessors to take a census of their townships, and he does not believe that the State board intended that they should. He says they can use the figures of the census of 1910 and fill out the blanks very easily, so this extra work will not amount to much.

The schedule sent out by the State board of tax commissioners recommended the assessment of most kinds of personal property at something near its actual value. These are only recommendations, however, and the assessors do not have to abide by them necessarily. It is said that assessors will appraise property this year at about the same rate a they have in past years.

The various problems of the assessment will be worked out at the meeting of the assessors Friday and an effort will be made to make the assessments over the county as near uniform as possible. A uniform rate for listing live stock and grain and other personal property will likely be agreed on for Rush county at that time.

This is "off" year with the assessors. That is they do not have to assess real estate this year. That is taken only every four years. Of course, if it is noted by any assessors that improvements have been made on real estate since the assessment two years ago, these improvements will be appraised and the amount handed to the auditor so that it may be tacked on to the owners taxes this time. In cases where property has burned since the last appraisement of real estate, the auditor is notified by the assessors and the taxes for that are deducted from this year's assessment.

It should be remembered by taxpayers dog tax is the only tax due in cash when the assessor calls. The law provides dog tax shall be paid the assessor when he calls. After a certain periods such law become delinquent and the owner is liable to prosecution.

ALEXANDER'S SUGAR CAMP BURNS DOWN

Building is Found in Ruins Early Today and Equipment is Badly Damaged.

MAY BE WORK OF INCENDIARY

Fire believed to be of incendiary origin destroyed William A. Alexander's sugar camp at his farm west of the city last night. It is thought by Mr. Alexander that boys visited the camp last night to steal molasses and either accidentally or purposely set the building on fire. All of the camp paraphernalia was ruined by the blaze and was a big loss. The loss of the equipment was greater than that of the building which was a cheap frame structure. The loss is completely covered by insurance.

Mr. Alexander put out all of the fires at the camp before leaving it yesterday afternoon and this morning he discovered the building in ruins. The molasses was all removed from the building and it is thought that whoever set the building on fire probably was disappointed in not finding molasses there, or else started a fire and set it on fire.

SELECTS ROUTE AS FAR AS METAMORA

Charles L. Henry and Engineers Drive From Andersonville so Surveyors Can Continue Work.

MERCHANTS MEET NEXT WEEK

Charles L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, and a party of engineers, drove from Andersonville to Metamora today to select the route for surveyors to follow in making the survey of the proposed route of extension from this city to Cincinnati. Over a week ago Mr. Henry and surveyors selected the route from this city to Andersonville and surveyors are now going over that, making the survey and gathering statistics asked by the company and which will be used to determine which is the best route for the extension.

The Rushville Retail Merchants Association will not meet until a week from tomorrow night, but work is being done toward the securing of a free right-of-way for the company over the route from this city. Brookville merchants are up and doing. Saturday night committees were appointed looking toward bringing the extension over the "Bultown" route. Committees were named to learn the amount of products shipped from the Whitewater valley.

FARMER PLEASED WITH PROSPECTS

Recall Rule That Severe Winter is Generally Followed by Abundant Crops.

COLD IS HELPFUL TO FRUIT

Said That Wheat is in Fine Condition—Damp Summer is Expected.

Farmers, gardeners and agriculturists generally are much pleased with the present severe weather, despite the fact that it has been hard on stock and has caused the public generally much hardships.

It is a well known fact that a hard winter is almost invariably followed by a good fruit year an abundant crop in all lines from corn to wheat. The freezing of the ground for weeks, the earth covered with snow, and low temperature brings about changes in the soil that are absolutely necessary if the ground is to answer the call of nature in bringing forth food stuffs for the support of living things that must depend thereon.

Of course, the ery will be set up soon that the peach crop and other fruits have been killed, but the facts are that not for years have the elements worked to the good of the soil and the productiveness thereon as it has this winter. The ground is frozen solid to a depth of 25 to 30 inches and the covering of snow that lay on field and wood aided in giving to mother earth those constituents that are so necessary to the soil if it is to put forth its best in production the following summer.

A cold winter with much snow is usually followed by a rather damp summer season and an abundance of rain is indicated for the summer of 1912. There is then reason for the farming folk to look upon the coming season with pleasing anticipation.

Wheat is looking fine say the farmers, and unless something unforeseen turns up, the wheat growers can see no reason why they should not have the best crop in that line in the history of their operations.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

TASTEFUL CAKES FOR PAPER BAG COOKING.

By Martha McCulloch Williams. Paper bag cooking seems to me ideal for plum cake, which needs to be made well done throughout without hardening the outer part to a lava crust. Wherefore, the place of honor for White House plum cake, the veritable article provided for the last three incumbents of the White House. I am sure the inventor and compounder of it, the excellent Mrs. W. H. Wilson of Nashville, Tenn., will not merely forgive but applaud this infringement upon her copyright, since she is the soul of generosity, no less than the queen of cooks, and high priestess in the fine art of cake making.

Here is, verbatim, her receipt for: President's Fruit Cake.—One pound butter, one pound sugar, twelve eggs, beaten separately, one pound flour, browned and sifted, four and a half pounds seeded raisins, one and a half pounds homemade citron, one glass grape jelly, two teaspoonfuls melted chocolate, one pound crystallized cherries, one pound crystallized pineapple, one pound blanched almonds cut fine, one pound shelled pecans, cut small, one tablespoon cinnamon, one tablespoon nutmeg, one-half tablespoonful alspice, one-half teaspoonful cloves, one-half glass cordial mixed with spices, one glass grape juice or whiskey. Soak almonds over night in two teaspoons rosewater. Soak fruit over night in grape juice or whiskey. Cream butter and sugar light; add well beaten yolks, then cordial and spices, jelly and chocolate. Next, add beaten whites and then fruit rolled in some of the flour. Add nuts last. Bake or steam four to six hours. Use either large or small molds. If steamed, dry off in slow oven one hour.

Instead of steaming, cook either in tin molds, lined with paper, obtained by cutting up a paper cooking bag, and sealed inside other bags, or else in cases made from the bags, or in small bags very well buttered.

I wonder was it the heady appetite of youth which made spice cake my special delight? Cream a big cup of butter, beating into it, one after another, seven yolks of eggs. When very light, add two full cups of light brown sugar, a cup of black molasses, the best obtainable, a small tumbler of blackberry cordial, a tablespoonful of powdered alspice, half as much powdered ginger, a teaspoonful powdered cloves, three grated nutmegs, a generous pinch or powdered cinnamon, half a saltspoonful of fresh-ground black pepper, and the merest dusting of cayenne. When all these are beaten in smooth, add four cups of flour lightly browned and sifted twice with half a teaspoonful of baking soda. Putting the flour in warm made the cake lighter. If the batter seemed too stiff—it ought to stir freely, but not run very readily—a little cream was added, mixed with a heaping tablespoonful of grated chocolate. The cake was allowed to rise fifteen minutes, then baked in quick heat. In a paper bag, the same end would be gained by setting it on the grid shelf inside a sealed bag, just as the gas was lighted, turning it on only half at first, then increasing the heat when the cake had had time to rise.

Spice cake meant also silver cake—notwithstanding eggs were so plenty, we were never permitted to waste whites. For the silver cake, cream a large cup of butter very light, adding to it three generous cups of warm sifted sugar and half a cup of thick cream. Beat hard five minutes, then add the strained juice of a large lemon and four rather scant cups of warm flour sifted twice with half a teaspoonful of soda. Mix smooth, then fold in the whites of seven eggs, beaten very stiff with a pinch of salt and half a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Flavor with almond and rosewater—a spoonful of each. Three parts fill paper bag mold or tin ones lined with greased paper secured by cutting up a paper bag, seal inside another bag, lightly greased, and cook as directed for spice cake.

Gold cake baked in layers, and used alternately with silver cake, looks very delicious and tastes even better. Especially if the layers are put together with boiled frosting enriched with raisins, nuts, and tiny bits of crystallized fruit. To make gold cake, heat and sift twice a pound of sugar, work it into half a pound of butter, creamed very light, add the strained juice and grated yellow peel of a large sweet orange, half a cup of sweet cream and the yolks of twelve eggs, beaten very light. Sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with a pound of flour. Sift the flour a second time, and put in by light handfuls, stirring in each before adding another. Flavor with a wineglass of brandy and a teaspoonful of lemon. Bake in paper bag molds, or tin ones, lined with greased paper, inside paper bags. When cool and firm, cut the cake in inch layers, using a very sharp knife. Spread the cut surface with the prepared frosting, put on a layer of silver cake, more frosting, then more cake, until the pile is as thick as you care to have it. Trim a little round the edges and frost all over with orange frosting or caramel frosting about the color of cream. (Copyright, 1911, by the Associated

NO RESISTANCE TO THE REBELS

Juarez Gave Up Without a Struggle.

COMPLICATIONS WERE FEARED

Dreading the Possibility of Immediate Intervention From the Other Side of the River in Event of Battle Bullets Impinging on El Paso, Mexican Officials Permit Vasquistas to Seize the Port Without a Struggle.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 28.—Rebels styling themselves Vasquistas are in possession of Juarez, the largest Mexican port of entry on the Mexican border. Whether the Mexican government will attempt to retake it is problematical.

Mexican Consul E. C. Llorente of El Paso declares the town gave up rather than run the risk of complications with the United States. Troops of the United States filled all the business streets of El Paso, ready to go into Juarez if bullets began falling on American soil. If the Mexican government attempts to retake the town, it must again endanger El Paso. Having surrendered to prevent international complications, Americans think there will be no effort to take the place, and that the port of Juarez is closed. In consideration of its having surrendered to prevent violation of American neutrality, the Mexican government will now doubtless insist upon the United States looking upon the port of Juarez as closed and stopping the importation or exportation of merchandise.

The rebels captured the town practically without any resistance. Immediately establishing guards in the town, they proceeded to set up their government. No rioting or disorder attended the fall of the city. Only one man was wounded in the attack, and he was wounded by accident. He was Captain Cayetano Romero of the defenders, accidentally shot in the side by one of his own men. The rebels did not have a man killed or wounded. Two El Paso homes were struck by flying bullets. The rebels entered the town firing with their rifles and with a lone cannon which they dragged with them. Some of the Juarez defenders replied to the first rebel volley, but this was contrary to orders from their commanders, and they were soon silenced.

The attacking army then marched through the streets unopposed, absolutely victorious. The custom house, postoffice, municipal buildings, jail, barracks and other public places were seized and guards were immediately placed to preserve order. Guards were also placed at the two railroad stations and sent to the international bridges that communicate with El Paso. The invaders found all the stores in Juarez closed and locked, the doors barred in many instances, but they made no effort to loot and their commander soon had guards posted throughout the city. It was a most orderly capture. Orders were issued that looting would be punished by execution.

Throughout the excitement United States troops, including a battery of artillery, were lined up on the American side looking on, ready to march over to stop the trouble if El Paso lives became endangered.

MET DEATH IN DUTY'S COURSE

Montgomery's Marshal Slain in a Poolroom.

WAS A TERROR TO EVILDOERS

By His Activity In Enforcing Obedience to the Law, Marshal Robert Walker Had Made Many Enemies in Mining Town—Entering John Healy's Poolroom to Investigate a Row He Was Attacked and Shot.

Washington, Ind., Feb. 28.—Town Marshal Robert Walker, aged 44 years, of Montgomery, a mining town, seven miles from this city, was shot and killed by Harry Healy, son of John Healy, a former saloon keeper, but now the proprietor of a restaurant and poolroom. A few minutes before the shooting John Healy had thrown a patron out of his place into the street. The marshal entered to investigate. Words arose between the two, and Healy threw Walker to the floor and, though down, Walker drew his revolver. Young Healy then interfered, took the weapon from the marshal and shot him, the bullet entering back of the right ear.

Walker had been marshal for about five months, and his activity in dispersing the rowdies of the place had made a number of enemies for him. He was a terror for evildoers generally.

Harry Healy and his father were placed in the county jail by the city officers.

Rafferty grasped one of the prisoner's legs and held on until the train was stopped. Rafferty is at his home in this city wearing his hand in splints, the result of the encounter.

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

Wednesday, February 28, 1912.

News dispatches from Washington convey the intelligence that desertion is apparent in the ranks of Theodore Roosevelt. Perhaps those eight governors are not the whole United States after all. Besides it develops that one of the eight was elected on a Democratic fusion ticket and never professed to be a Republican. Sometimes it is good politics for the opposition to get all the candidates they can in the Republican race.

Now comes Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Roosevelt's life-long and most intimate friend, and criticizes the ex-president for his fanatical speech at the Columbus constitutional convention last week. Senator Lodge was expected to take up the standard of Roosevelt in the campaign for nomination, but it is positively stated that he has declined to take any part in the campaign. And there are other supporters Roosevelt has lost in his effort to attract even more public attention and support.

It appears that it is about all over but the shouting in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Samuel Ralston of Lebanon, the candidate of the Crawford Fairbanks-Taggart machine, is capturing the delegates to the State convention just about as fast as they bob up. Yesterday in Indianapolis the Taggart machine captured every delegate in Marion county and the success of Ralston is practically assured. John W. Boehne of Evansville who started in several weeks ago to defeat the ring in the Democratic party, is no nearer the goal than he was when he first started. If Ralston is elected, of course, he will have to pay Crawford Fairbanks and Thomas Taggart the price—the continuation of the reign started by Thomas Marshall and his noble assistant, Mr. Proctor.

Of course, there never seemed to be any doubt about it, Theodore Roosevelt meant the third consecutive term. He never mentioned such a trivial matter when he alluded to the third on that night in November, 1904, after he knew he had been elected, as follows:

"On the 4th of March next, I shall have served three and a half years, and this three and a half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Best by Test—FAIR PROMISE.

Mr. Roosevelt states in a Boston interview that it would naturally be understood that he meant "consecutive." But that word conveys a lot of meaning in this connection.

There seems to be little doubt but what the friends of the Taggart political machine dominate the Democratic party in Rush county, yet it seems practically assured that Lieut. Gov. Frank J. Hall, if his name is placed before the convention, will receive the complimentary vote of the county delegation on the first ballot. After that it is ascertained the support will likely be swung to Ralston. Mr. Hall had aspirations that a "dark horse" candidate generally entertains. But those aspirations seem now to be nothing more than fantastical dreams. The fight put up by the Boehne forces in the State convention—at least it appears so now—will be very futile as compared to the power which the machine candidates will have.

It might well be said that Dennis brought it all on himself. Not many people would have remembered that he was still the prosecutor had he not made the grandstand play several weeks ago in declaring over and over again that he intended to prosecute the gamblers in Rushville. Even if Dennis were sincere at the time, he did not remain so long because his efforts in the campaign mapped out in his newspaper interviews were futile, almost appallingly so. He collected fees off a few men for running slot machines and let it go at that. Well might it have been for Dennis and the Democratic party had he not got a job when he hit town several years ago.

Editorialettes.

And then Dennis was elected to attend to the duties of the prosecutor's office in Rush county.

The Indianapolis Star opines it would not be a good financial venture to offer a prize to a newspaper in which the name of Roosevelt does not appear nowadays. And the same applies to every page of the Star.

Edward Fisher, a Milroy notary public, advertises that he has a typewriter and can write and talk at the same time.

Not the least bit modest is he?

Delinquent dog taxes are not like any other delinquent taxes only in one case it is possible to prosecute—sometimes—and in others it is not.

Thanks Due Us.

We are indebted to the Rushville Republican, says the Kokomo Tribune, for the information that Verl Beabout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clara Beabout, is able to be about again after an attack of the grip.

CONSERVATION OF GAS.

The much discussed waste of natural gas is stated by the United States Geological Survey to be rapidly decreasing. The problem of conserving the natural gas supply may be considered as having been satisfactorily solved in Pennsylvania, throughout the Appalachian and the Lima-Indiana fields, and in Kansas. The greatest waste is in Oklahoma and in the Caddo fields of Louisiana, owing in Oklahoma to probable looseness in enforcement of the laws and in Louisiana to a lack of a market. It is noteworthy that one of the two wild wells in Louisiana that have been sensational examples of waste have been successfully closed and the gas thus conserved for future use.

A Safe Old-Fashioned Remedy Quickly Relieves All Distressing Symptoms.

If you are subject to frequent colds, or if you have any of the distressing symptoms of catarrh, such as stuffed up feeling in the head, profuse discharge from the nose, sores in the nose, phlegm in the throat causing hawking and spitting, dull pain in the head or ringing in the ears, just anoint the nostrils or rub the throat or chest with a little Ely's Cream Balm, and see how quickly you will get relief.

In a few minutes you will feel your head clearing, and after using the Balm for a day or so the nasty discharge will be checked, the pain, soreness and fever gone, and you will no longer be offensive to yourself and your friends by constantly hawking, spitting and blowing.

Shake off the grip of catarrh before it impairs your sense of taste, smell and hearing and poisons your whole system. In a short time you can be completely cured of this distressing disease by using Ely's Cream Balm. This healing, antiseptic Balm does not fool you by short, deceptive relief, but completely overcomes the disease. It clears the nose, head and throat of all the rank poison, soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, making you proof against colds and catarrh.

One application will convince you, and a 50-cent bottle will generally cure the worst case of catarrh. It is guaranteed. Get it from your druggist today.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Rushville.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. Backache is kidney danger.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Plenty of evidence to prove this.

Harrison Levi, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I have nothing but praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have been of great benefit to me. I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble and no doubt the complaint was brought on by the hardships I endured while in the war. I had severe pains in my back and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage. This weakness disturbed my rest and I know that something must be done. Three years ago Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and procuring a box at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store I began their use. In a short time the backache and kidney weakness disappeared and I was in much better health. I cannot say that I am completely cured, but I know that I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills for relief. I have previously given a public statement in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills and I gladly endorse them again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MONKS ON TRIAL ON CHARGES OF CRIME

Secrets of Pauline Monastery to Be Aired in Court.

Vienna, Feb. 28.—For stealing the jewels of the Black Virgin from the Roman Catholic cathedral at Czestochau, Russian Poland, the trial of Father Macoch and two other Pauline monks has been opened at Petrikov. It is likely to last a week, as over a hundred witnesses have been summoned. This is the famous case which involves not only robbery, but fratricide, the elopement of a monk with a dissolute woman and the organization of a dissolute circle of monks in the Pauline monastery. The jewels were stolen three years ago. Father Macoch and Helene Ostranska, a beautiful woman, disappeared about the same time and lived together in Moscow for a year. The priest became anxious to get rid of the woman and married her to his brother. The woman told her husband about the robbery of the Black Virgin, and the monk killed his brother, as he was afraid of being betrayed. He administered absolution to the man he was about to kill. After the arrest of Macoch a thorough search was made of the monastery and it was found that systematic robbery had been carried on for years. The jewels have now been placed in charge of a new administrative force and several monks are to be tried for theft. The woman Ostranska is also under arrest.

HELD TO ANSWER

West Virginian Charged With Violating White Slave Law.

Welch, W. Va., Feb. 28.—R. D. Allen, a railroad man, whose home is here, has been arrested at Columbus, O., under the federal law and is awaiting hearing for violating the "white slave" traffic act. The accusation is founded upon the charge of Almeda Jane Adkins of Culloden, W. Va., who is only sixteen years of age. The little victim was found in a Columbus resort and told the police that Allen had taken her to Columbus, promising to get work for her. Instead he sent her to the resort. Allen is married and has a family.

YUAN ACCEPTS

And Will Probably Take the Oath of Office at Nanking.

Peking, Feb. 28.—When the republican delegation informed Yuan Shih Kai of his election to the presidency of the republic, Yuan expressed his appreciation of the honor and his willingness to accept the position. In his reply he emphasized the need of co-operation among the different factions and the desire and necessity of preserving friendly relations with the foreign powers. The delegation asked Yuan to take the oath of office at Nanking. The president said he would discuss the question later, but it appears from the present situation that he will certainly go to Nanking sooner or later.

The delegation was greeted with a greater show of enthusiasm by the people than Peking has seen since the revolt began, despite the momentous events beginning with the grant of the constitution to its ending with the abdication of the throne. The delegation when entering the city used the gate which was used solely for the emperor's use.

No Cascaret User Ever Has Headach

A 10-Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels Clean, Pure and Fresh for Months.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets, immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means inside cleanliness and a clear head for months. Ask any of the million of Cascaret users if they ever have headache.

KENTUCKY PRISONS UNDER NEW REGIME

Ouster Bill Creates Entirely New Conditions.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 28.—By a vote of 27 to 9 the senate passed the Hamilton bill abolishing the present prison commission and ousting from office Harvey McCutcheon of Franklin and Eli H. Brown of Frankfort, prison commissioners, and all of the employees of the penitentiaries. A nonpartisan prison commission of three members, to be appointed by Governor McCreary, was created, and also the offices of wardens, guards, etc., are revived. The bill had already passed the house. One commissioner is to be appointed for a term of two years and commissioners for terms of four years each. It is to be decided by lot who shall have the short term. All commissioners, except the one who gets the short term, will be ineligible for reappointment. The commissioners are required to give a bond of $25,000 to insure the faithful performance of their duties. The positions will pay $2,400 each annually.

QUESTION OF VERACITY

L. & N. Official's Word Disputed by Kentucky Legislators.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 28.—That W. F. Sheridan, superintendent of transportation for the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was so wrought up over the introduction in the legislature of what is known as the "nonpromotable bill," prohibiting railroads operating in Kentucky from promoting negro trainmen that he threatened to have discharged L. & N. employees who had asked for such legislation, was the statement made by W. E. Wilkie, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The charge was made before the senate railroad committee. Mr. Sheridan, who was present, denied he made such a statement. Representatives J. H. Williams and W. A. Shawler declared he did.

The members of the Rushville police force are keeping a sharp lookout for Cordia Martin, the alleged bank robber, who escaped from the Greenfield jail Sunday morning. The local officers were notified of the jail delivery soon after it occurred. He went east out of Greenfield, and it was thought that he might have possibly come to Rushville.

And Besides Levi Weaver Attempts to Prove in Court Horse Was "Thick-Winded."

SUIT TO FORECLOSE A LEIN

The case of Levi Weaver against Joseph Hardin to foreclose a mechanic's lien, in which $160 was demanded took up the time of the court today. Judge Blair took the case under advisement. It is deducted from the evidence that Hardin gave Weaver, who was said to have entered into a contract with Philander and Hethcoe Weaver to do some work for Hardin, a horse in payment for the work. The plaintiff alleged he was not a party to the contract made by the other two men, and besides, his attorneys attempted to prove that the horse was "thick-winded" and of little account. All of the parties to the case live in Carthage.

Preparation was made in court today for the case of Katie McAllister, wife of Thomas McAllister, chief of police, against Clyde Miller, which is set for tomorrow. The plaintiff demands $5,000 damages for alleged injuries received in falling through an iron grating in front of the Grand hotel. P. A. Miller and the City of Rushville originally were parties to the defendant, but were demurred out of court.

Judge Blair went to Shelbyville this afternoon and will return at nine o'clock in the morning.

WARNS AGAINST FAKE REMEDIES

State Board of Health Chemist Says Indiana Farmers Are Swindled By Salesmen.

SELL "CURE ALL" FOR STOCK

It is Invariable Cheap Mixture Which is Neither Disease Preventive or Cure.

Stock-food firms outside the state, by a system whereby the Indiana farmer is used as an innocent tool, are swindling Hoosiers out of thousands of dollars, according to H. E. Barnard, chemist of the State Board of Health.

"Tons of alleged stock remedies are being sent into the state," says Mr. Barnard, "through the solicitation of agents appointed among the Indiana farmers. The material inclosed in the fifty-pound bags is selling at 15c. a pound, and would make fairly good fertilizer.

"The scheme of the companies is to appoint agents among the farmers in various communities throughout the state and these agents, to whom it is represented that the stock food and tonic contains nine ingredients and will completely prevent hog cholera and cure other stock maladies, take orders for the goods among their neighbors. Meanwhile the companies have shipped big orders of the stuff to the agents, taking their notes as payment.

"After the alleged stock food has been used once or twice, the user finds that he has been swindled and refuses to pay the agent."

The company then sends in the man's notes and the samples of the food come into Mr. Barnard's office, where the agent hopes it may be proved that the stuff is put up in contravention of the pure food laws, which would release him from payment of the purchase price.

Mr. Barnard declares that the bags are carefully labeled and that they do not assert any qualities for the food or state its ingredients, thus escaping the provisions of the statutes. The only way for farmers to cope with the situation is to prosecute the company for swindling. Mr. Barnard believes. One man in northern Indiana has lost $2700 through the avenue of the stock food swindle, according to information which has reached Mr. Barnard.

The State official said that he is led to believe that Indiana farmers during the past few years have paid millions of dollars into the coffers of firms doing business in such manner, the output from which invariably has been a cheap chemical mixture, which has neither disease preventive nor curative powers.
